++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Windy with blustery, heavy showers.

Today:
Starting very windy with outbreaks of heavy rain. This will soon clear, leaving sunny spells. However, it will remain windy and occasional showers will soon develop, turning heavy through the afternoon, and perhaps wintry over the Peak District hills. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers generally easing this evening, allowing prolonged clears spells to develop, as it becomes slightly less windy. However, a few showers will continue to affect northwestern parts overnight. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Friday:
Becoming rather cloudy with showers, heavy at times, and snow possible over the hills in the Peak District. Breezy, but wind and showers temporarily easing later in the day. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Very windy Saturday with early morning rain clearing to showers. Less windy Sunday, with sunny spells and a few further showers. Largely dry Monday, with spells of sunshine.
